CONTRIBUTIONS

This website is the second version of the lessons on the introduction to film analysis vocabulary launched in 2011.

Laurence Moinereau, associate professor in cinematographic studies at Poitiers University. Author of Le Générique de film. De la lettre à la figure (PUR, 2009).

This online course is adapted from the introductory course on cinematographic language that Laurence Moinereau created for first-year students in performing art at Poitiers University.

She designed the overall structure of the course, all of the videos for the "Definitions" section, and the exercises and case study for Session 1.

This English course is adapted from her French course.

Contributions:

Guy Astic is an associate professor in Modern Literature, teaching French and the cinema and audiovisual in high school, and at Aix-Marseille University. Director of the Rouge Profond publisher, he is writing on cinema's theory. He developed the exercises for Session 5.

Jean-François Buiré is the former editor-in-chief of UPOPI. He is a film critic for various magazines, teaching at the "Ecole Nationale Supérieure" in Lyon, lecturing and programming film, and directing short movies.

He wrote the "Formats" exercise for Session 1, the case studies for Session 5 (Sunrise) and Session 8 (Tristana; 2001, A Space Odyssey; An Andalusian Dog).

Amélie Dubois is a film critic and programmer. She intervenes in several initiatives for education in the visual image as a trainer, editor and leader of critical writing workshops. She was a member of the selection committee for the "Semaine de la Critique" (Cannes) and the "EntreVues de Belfort" film festival.

She designed the exercises and case study on The Innocents for Session 4, the exercises and case study on The General Line for Session 9.

Simon Duflo is a filmmaker, teacher and new media consultant. He is trainer in video design at various universities and high schools, and developing workshops about interactive documentary and 360 VR video. He designed the exercises for Session 6.

Julie Garet has a Ph.D. in aesthetics, sciences and technologies of arts, and lectures in film studies at Paris 8 University. She designed the exercises and case study on The Haunting for Session 2.

Charlotte Garson is a film critic and writer on cinema. She is editor-in-chief of Les Cahiers cinema. She directed the cinema pages of Etudes (a French cultural review) and cinema critic of La Dispute and Plan Large radio programmes (France Culture). Author of Amoureux (Cinémathèque française/Actes Sud Junior, 2007), Le Cinéma hollywoodien (Cahiers du cinéma, 2008), Jean Renoir (Cahiers du cinéma, 2008).

She designed the exercises and case studies (Touch of Evil; Two or Three Things I Know About Her) for Sessions 10 and 11.

Suzanne Hême de Lacotte is head of mediation for the “Cinéma du Réel” film festival and intervenes in programmes for education in the visual image. She is teaching the history and cinema’s aesthetic at Paris 1 University.

She developed the exercises and case study on La Cérémonie for Session 7.

Gurvan Hue is a graduate of Femis (“Image” section), director of photography and film director.

He made the sequences on the zoom/tracking comparison and on lighting.

Christophe Maury, literature-history teacher and former project manager at Ciclic, who participated in the monitoring and pedagogical evaluation of online courses, in collaboration with lower- and upper-secondary school teachers from the Centre-Val de Loire region.

Eugénie Zvonkine is an historian, researcher, film critic, specialist in Soviet, Russian and Ukrainian cinema. She is teaching cinema and audiovisual at Paris 8 University.

She designed the exercises and the case study on Man with a Movie Camera for Session 3, and the exercises for Session 8.
